

GHOST STORIES OF LOG CABIN VILLAGE

Many stories, legends and myths have been written and/or verbally passed down about possible ghosts at Log Cabin Village. Obviously, the Village prefers to be seen as a living history museum and not a haunted house, but the truth is that hauntings and ghost stories are popular and hard to ignore. That is why we have created this information sheet to assist you in your research into the ghost stories of Log Cabin Village. The newspaper articles listed below are all of the articles written about Village ghosts in the last 15 years. There are interviews with visitors and staff in these articles and they contain all of the known information to date about supposed occurrences of ghost activity. The web sites that are listed are the result of a Google search for Log Cabin Village ghosts. Some of this information is duplicated from the newspaper articles, and some is information that the staff has never heard before. We are providing you with all the information to decide for yourself...is the Village haunted???

Newspaper Sources for Ghost Accounts:

Fort Worth Star-Telegram—October 31, 2004—1G Sunday Life Section—”The Lady of the Log Cabin Village...and other spirited tales from Cowtown’s crypt”

Fort Worth Star-Telegram—October 31, 1992—1 Life Section—”There were 22 people that spent the night at Log Cabin Village.”

Fort Worth Star-Telegram—October 31, 1992—7 Life Section—”A step-by-step encounter of another kind.”

Fort Worth Star-Telegram—August 21, 1991—1 Zone/Southwest; Zone/Westside—”Coffee Shop Talk.”

Fort Worth Star-Telegram—July 18, 1991—3 Zone/East—Hauntings in businesses promoting ghost stories.”

Web Sources for Ghost Accounts:

http://www.lonestarspirits.org/locations/fort_worth.html

<http://members.tripod.com/hauntedfortworth/log.html>

<http://www.ghosttraveller.com/Texas.htm#tourist>

http://www.leftfield-psi.net/ghosts/haunted_places/usa_t.html